DJ Commander - Ronald Schilling

Ronald Schilling, better known as DJ Commander, is a versatile German musician who has been a prominent figure in the music scene in Saxony-Anhalt, Thuringia, and Lower Saxony for many years.

His career began as a drummer and led him through numerous band projects to a broad musical portfolio as a guitarist, DJ, and producer.

Under his stage name DJ Commander, he produces electronic music with a focus on deep house, progressive house, and melodic electro.

His releases appear on various streaming and DJ platforms and are aimed primarily at lovers of atmospheric, melodic club music.

Tracks like "Echoes in the Dark," "Sun In The Night," and "Blue Moon" exemplify his style: characterized by dense soundscapes, catchy melodies, and driving beats.

In addition, Ronald Schilling is active as a live musician and regularly performs with the band Kiepengold. With a diverse repertoire, the band provides musical entertainment at city festivals and cultural events, combining handmade live music with many years of stage experience.